
Change in Electronic Filing ProceduresSales &
Use tax
notice

Effective June 13, 2002, the NationTax Board of Directors resolved to cease all operations. Accordingly, NationTax has blocked all new filings, has posted such a notice on its Web site and is notifying all its customers by email to this effect.

Thank you for your cooperation. We apologize for any inconvenience that this may cause you.

At this time, the Department of Revenue has no other available Internet EDI filing option. We are currently in the planning stages for providing an Internet filing option through the state portal and will be providing you with information on that procedure when it is available.

Publication Date: June 14, 2002

In the interim, you will begin receiving paper returns each month. We are sending this month's return with this letter. In addition, we are also sending you a copy of the booklet "Electronic Filing Procedures for Sales Tax" in which we offer several options for computer software that is available for electronic filing. If you are interested in utilizing one of these software options rather than filing paper returns, please call the Electronic Commerce Unit, at (615) 741-5876, for more information.
